Last year I went on a student exchange to Australia. I spent two months living with a real Australian family and attending the local school. It was very similar to here in Mexico. Most students wear school uniforms and school days are divided into classes by the bell. They also get only a little bit of homework. Sports are different. In Mexico we play soccer and in Australia, they play cricket in the summer. In general, I found there are similarities and differences, but I enjoyed the experience.
